The "Register" Tobacco Fund for Our Soldiers in Europe

The good women of the country are knitting sweaters, socks, wristbands and all sorts of comfortable things to send to the soldiers at the front. What about tobacco? There is nothing you can think of that will give more comfort and solace to those men than tobacco.

This paper has made all arrangements to send tobacco, and not only that, but is going to send the most popular brands in this country—the kinds that many of the men have used at home and that they all know are good.

Tobacco can be sent to Europe without tax, import duty or freight. Through the generosity of leading tobacco manufacturers we are enabled to send 50c worth of smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco or cigarettes for 25c.

It will be worth many quarters to receive grateful acknowledgement of your donation from some soldier at the front. A return post card stamped and addressed to you will be placed in each package you donate.

Send us a quarter if that is all you can spare, or more if you can spare it. This is a time to make sacrifices for the comfort of those who are risking their lives. Send one dollar, ten dollars, or one hundred dollars if you can spare it. There won't be any too much tobacco to go around. The names of all those who make donations and the amounts donated will be published in this newspaper from time to time.

Cut out the form below, fill it out for as liberal an amount as you can afford and send to us with your contribution without delay as it is important to get tobacco to the other side as quickly as it can be done.

Publisher IRON COUNTY REGISTER, Ironton, Mo.:

The Red Cross Spirit Speaks.

Wherever war, with its red woes,
Or flood or fire or famine, goes,
There, too, go I;
If earth in any quarter quakes
Or pestilence its ravage makes,
Thither I fly.

I kneel behind the soldier's trench,
I walk mid shambles' smear and stench,
The dead I mourn;
I bear the stretcher and I bend
O'er Fritz and Pierre and Jack to mend

What shells have torn.
I go wherever man may dare,
I go wherever women's care
And love can live,
Wherever strength and skill can bring
Succor to human suffering
Or solace give.

I helped upon Haldora's shore;
With Hospitalier Knights I bore
The first red cross;
I was the Lady of the Lamp;
I saw in Solferino's camp
The crimson loss.

I am your pennies and your pounds;
I am your bodies on their rounds
Of pain afar;
I am you, doing what you would
If you were only where you could—
Your avatar.

The Cross which on my arm I wear,
The flag which o'er my breast I bear,
Is but the sign
Of what you'd sacrifice for him
Who suffers on the hellish rim
Of war's red line.

—JOHN FINLEY in Red Cross Magazine.

An Appeal from Camp Funston.

Ed. Register—I'm no beggar and do not believe in caddling off any one, but the Captain has requested me to write and ask a little favor of you.

Nearly all the counties or cities of the different states that have soldier boys represented in this camp (Camp Funston) are raising a fund to help buy the many needed things for the boys, such as dish towels, tobacco, etc. At present we only have four dish towels for our company of 150, to wipe their mess kits on. About half of us dry them with newspapers. Nearly all the other companies are supplied with base-balls, foot-balls, boxing gloves and such things, as make their spare minutes a pleasure. We have nothing, but are living in hopes and relying upon the patriotic people of Iron county to give us a little lift to help swell our fund.

It would be very much appreciated by us if you would publish the facts of our case in the next issue of the REGISTER. Am sure it would bring good results. At least we hope so.

All the boys seem to be pretty well contented, but, of course, "there is no place like home."

The tallest and shortest soldiers in our company are both Iron county boys. They are next to the original "Mutt and Jeff."

It is very warm to-day and the boys "kinda" hate to hit the field.

The Kaiser is everything but a gentleman with us and we all hope that some one will soon get him and get him hard.

If the ad brings good results, please send all donations in care of Captain Joseph H. Bakley, Company 10, 164th Depot Brigade, Camp Funston, Kansas.

Thanking you for all favors you will show, I am,

ONE OF THE IRON COUNTY BOYS.

From One of the Boys.

CAMP FUNSTON, KAN., Sept. 30, 1917.
Dear Editor—I am very grateful to you for the paper you sent me. It surely was a treat; I spent a happy hour reading it.

We have been working steadily every day since we came. We drill seven hours a day, except Sunday and Saturday afternoon. We have a nice bunch of fellows in our company. Our Captain and all our officers are fine men; they are always kind and good to us. I hope will all follow their example.

We have composed a song in our company that covers all our aims. We sing it when we are marching. Some of the boys get tired and downhearted; then we sing it to cheer them up.

THE SONG.

We are the boys of company D,
We are both staunch and true,
We're out to fight for what is right—
The red, the white, the blue—
While we are marching to victory!

CHORUS

Hurrah! Hurrah for the boys of company D!
Hurrah for the land of liberty!
Honor our Captain brave,
Our officers so true,
While we are marching to victory!

Respectfully, Yours,

F. L. SUTTON.

From M. U. Journalism into War Service.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 8.—The school of Journalism of the University of Missouri, the first school of its kind in the world, which begins its tenth year this month, has graduated 120 men and 29 women. Ninety per cent of the graduates are engaged, or were until called into war service, in some phase of journalistic work, excluding the young women who have given up journalism for housekeeping. The positions held range from reporter to managing editor, from advertising solicitor to publisher, from teacher in news-writing in high schools to professor of journalism in colleges and universities. The numbers are about equal in rural and metropolitan newspaper work. Twenty-five per cent of the graduates are enlisted as volunteers in some branch of the U. S. Army or Navy. The graduates are scattered in twenty-five different states and six foreign lands.

A Big Effort to Round Up Slackers.

That the government is going to make an extra effort to round up the slackers is very plain from the recent announcements made by Provost Marshal General Crowder, who makes the announcement from Washington that rewards will be paid for the arrest of deserters. General Crowder declares that all persons having failed to report to their local examination boards for examination or ### to the adjutant general when told to do so, will be classed as deserters and a reward of $50 paid for their arrest.

General Crowder asks that publicity be given the matter so police officers and individuals will be interested in apprehending these slackers.

Missouri Wheat to Japan.

The Hokkaido Agricultural Experiment Station at Sapporo, Japan, is seeking rust resistant varieties of wheat. A letter from K. Oshima, director of the station, received by the University of Missouri College of Agriculture recently said that the wheat in Hokkaido has been suffering greatly from the rust disease and he requested that samples of rust resistant varieties be forwarded to him.

The department of farm crops of the College sent four ounce samples of Rochester Red, Harvest Queen, Michigan Amber Ruby, Early Ripe, Defiance, U. S. Department of Agriculture Serial 11616, Missouri Experiment Station Selection 116-1a, and Valley. Among the 114 strains and varieties of wheat grown on the Missouri Experiment Station field during the last season these varieties were the least affected by rust.

"Ten Rules for Disloyalists."

(The St. Louis Republic.)

Moved by the frequency with which pro-Kaiser and antiwar propagandists are being arrested by the authorities and beaten and thrashed by irate citizens, the Illinois State Council of Defense offer certain condensed rules "of the most successful practitioners of disloyalty." They are recommended as being less risky than the usual methods followed by the dyed-in-the-wool and blown-in-the-bottle Kaiserites. The rules are:

1. Assert on every occasion that "Wall Street" made the war. Never mind explaining when, how or why.
2. Get in all the sneers you can at any profession of ideal motives. If you can find any flaw in our democracy say that we "are just as bad an autocracy as Germany." Place the war in as sordid a light as possible.
3. It is dangerous to denounce the United States directly, but rake history from end to end for mud to throw at the Allies. Especially, twist the lion's tail.
4. Profess great concern lest the sending of food to Europe will starve America. Support every embargo movement that applies to the Allies and none that does not.
5. If the President asks for an extension of power, rave about "dictatorship" and the "overthrow of the liberties for which our fathers," etc.
6. Spread rumors that the Allies are going to betray us or take advantage of us as soon as we are deeply enough involved in the war.
7. Accept conscription in principle, but hamper its working in every possible way. One good way is to start scares about revolutions and internal disorders as a pretext for keeping a large part of the army at home.
8. Demonstrate that the enemy is unconquerable and victory hopeless. Play the "candid friend" and not as a depressant.
9. Be very jealous to prevent "entangling alliances" and be much concerned about the Monroe Doctrine, if we "mix ourselves in European quarrels." A permanent league of nations would embarrass your junior friends if they remain in power after the war. Germany can only hope to conquer other nations if they act selfishly and in isolation.

10. When driven to make an unequivocal statement, protest your loyalty and then change the subject.
It will occur to anyone who has heard much antiwar talk that these rules very accurately describe most of the seditions and traitorous talk now being loosely indulged in over the country. They might have been written as a guide for many of the pro-German papers that are still doing their best to serve the "fatherland." It is suggested by the Illinois Council of Defense that the genuine American keep copy of these rules in his pocket and hand them to the next pacifist or doubtful American who tries to start a discussion.

Be Rid of That Ache.

If you are a sufferer with a lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Frank Mayes, Ironton, gave the following statement in October, 1911: "Kidney and bladder complaint came on me and I was caused annoyance by the way my kidneys acted. I was unable to stoop or lift on account of the pain and bearing down feeling in my back. I used different remedies but it remained for Doan's Kidney Pills to give me relief. Doan's have my highest endorsement."

A LASTING EFFECT.
On July 15, 1916, Mrs. Mayes said: "The benefit Doan's Kidney Pills brought me has been lasting. I have had no return of kidney trouble since I last recommended them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mayes had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Some Smallpox in Farmington.

(The Farmington Times.)
Alex Key, proprietor of Key's restaurant, was removed to the quarantine tent the first of the week on order of the city health physician, suffering with a very mild form of smallpox.

Mr. Key cannot imagine how he contracted the disease, but had been feeling bad for about a week, thinking he was taking grippe. On Sunday his physician diagnosed the ailment as smallpox and he was removed to quarantine.

There are also two or three other cases reported, in the Dickey family and the Coffey family, all of those who have the disease being quarantined in the quarantine tent and the authorities state that no alarm whatever need be felt as to the spread of the disease, as they have it well in hand.

Henry Behrens Dead.

(Jackson Cash-Book.)
Henry Behrens, aged 61 years, 4 months and 20 days, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Fields, in Portageville last Friday evening, of paralysis.

Mr. Behrens was born in Iron county. In later years he lived with his family in Jackson and was well known and respected by our citizens and all who knew him. He leaves his widow (who was Miss Annie Medley, daughter of Joseph Medley) and four grown children—Mrs. Arthur Fields, Mrs. Gertrude Mollwain of St. Louis, and John and Mary, at home. Two sisters, Mrs. Lena Ross and Mrs. Annie Puls, live in Jackson, and his brothers are Charles Behrens, now of St. Louis, and A. P. Behrens of Cape Girardeau. Mr. Behrens had suffered two previous strokes, one about two years ago and the other a month ago. His wife had been with him at Portageville and
